TUESDAY'S PROCEEDINGS.

[Special Correspondence of the News.]

WELDON, October 24.

As stated in my dispatch last night, the eighth annual Fair of the Weldon and Tar River Agricultural Society opened yesterday with good prospects of more than ordinary success. The entries up to the time of the present writing, 10 o'clock, a. m., have reached about five hundred and they are coming in very fast. Dr. Manning the Secretary, informs me that the number of entries up to the present is greater than by the same time at any former exhibition. The display of horses is certainly better than I have ever seen here, and better than it was at the State Fair, at least as to number.

The visitors to the Fair will be entertained by music furnished by the "Sons of Home" band, Hampton, Va., and excellent music they make, led by Prof. Borges.

The usual concomitants of Fairs in the shape of tents for side shows, such as the no-normal Dutchman and his learned pig, the big snake, eagle-legged horse, lightning snake man, &c., are scattered about the grounds, the objects of rural admiration.

There were three races yesterday. The first was a trotting match one mile and repeat, and was contested by the following horses which stood as in the order named--Sallie Patch, Jeff, Nellie and Dally, won by Sallie Patch; time 2:35.

Second race, won by Abdalla, time 1:57. Third, running race, entries, Cock Robin, Bill Day and John Dunham, the first named won; time 1:50.

Mr. Conner, of the State, was in the city yesterday. He was accompanied by Attorney General Kenan, Commissioner Cook, Mayor Manly and Mr. Turk, arrived by the accommodation train at 6 o'clock this morning. There were few persons on the train, and the Governor led a quiet reception by a committee of the Agricultural Society, and was escorted to his room at the Emory House.

A number of buggies, carriages and phaetons, by McLean & Kendall, Wilmington, Delaware, were in the city.

J. M. Foote, lot of superior finished stoves and iron, road scrapers and hollow ware, all cast at his foundry in Weldon, and enterprise creditable to Weldon and the State.

Farmer & Wainwright of Wilson have on exhibition a number of plows of different patterns, cotton planters &c., made at their foundry.

Talbot & Son, Tanner & Co., of Richmond, and Goodwin of Norfolk, exhibit their farm engines, which were at Raleigh last week. M. L. Long, of Prescott exhibits the "caloric" engine, said to possess some advantages over other stationary engines for farm use.

There are also some other exhibits in this line that I have not yet inspected. T. A. Granger, Esq., of Wayne, has on exhibition the largest number and most specimens of Agricultural productions on the grounds, consisting of flour, corn, oats, rye, peas, potatoes, turnips, wheat, and vegetables; and Mr. Granger exhibits a number of preserves, butter, canned fruits and other domestic articles. Mr. and Mrs. Granger seem to belong to that sensible class of farmers, who are not content with producing their own meat and bread, and other necessary supplies for home consumption.

Mrs. Dr. A. B. Pierce, of Halifax, exhibits cordials, jams, jellies, preserves and samples of cupperpung and flowers grapes.

Mrs. Wilson of Granville, who took a number of premiums at Raleigh, has preserves, jellies, pickles, cake, marmalade, and other domestic articles, and a number of fine specimens of her own work.

Mrs. Martha A. Carter, of Halifax county, exhibits products of the garden, orchard and domestic manufactures, pickles, preserves, brandy, peaches, home-made carriages, home-made candles, onions, squashes, apples, pears, and various other things.

One of the most artistic and beautiful specimens of female handiwork in Floral Hall is a box of wreaths, pendants, flowers ear-rings, necklaces, sleeve buttons, &c., made of high quality bleached and colored, harmoniously blended and shaded, the work of Miss Maggie Williams. (I think, of this county.)

A box containing a number of shell cameos, carved from conch shell, by Dr. Charles Smallwood with a pen knife, are very beautiful and wonderful.

Miss Mollie Southall, of Eastern, exhibits crocheted flowers, and a crocheted wreath, very pretty.

By Miss Cary Parker, of Enfield, a beautiful head piece, and a fair for the toilet table of a bridal chamber.

Miss Laura Parker, of Enfield exhibits a feather basket, very pretty, and some other works of art last-fully made.

A beautiful ornament over by Miss R. W. Shields, of Scotland Neck will attract the attention of visitors.

Mrs. J. B. Grant, of Northampton, contributes a number of splendid productions of her own handiwork to the exhibition, among them, a piano cover embroidered in worsted, very rich.

embroidered yoke and other specimens of the needle work.

Miss Kate Grant, of same county sent frames and fine specimens of tatting.

L. G. Grady, of Halifax has on exhibition watches, jewelry, silver and plated ware, such as his extensive establishment.

J. T. Young, of Petersburg, also exhibits silver ware, jewelry, &c. Stock very beautiful.

Mr. Eugene L. Harris, of Sassafras Fork, exhibits his crayon portraits taken from photographs, prominently among them a head and bust of Gov. Vance. These pictures were on exhibition at the State Fair, and there, as well as here, attracted much admiration.

Mrs. S. M. Lee, of Hicks Ford, Va., contributes to the domestic manufacture department a home-made block quilt that is very pretty and I should judge, very difficult to put together. All who see it admire it.

A crayon landscape--moonlight scene, "waiting for her lover," a very captivating picture, by Miss Sallie Miles of Littleton, N. C.

A very ingenious toilet article in the shape of a handkerchief box made of oat-straw and ornamented is contributed by Miss Laura of this county.

In Agricultural Hall, which is not yet fully arranged, I notice some millet heads 12 or 14 inches long; I do not know where they were raised, but they are two or three ears a bush, and are big enough to hold all the seed of an ordinary North Carolina farmer; at least until they get to raising more hogs than they do now.

But I must close now or miss the mail--will resume to-morrow when there will be more to notice and to talk about.

Everybody is anxiously looking for "Old Zeb," and as the Romance News says, "there will be ten thousand people here to hear him"--to-morrow.

WEDNESDAY'S PROCEEDINGS.

WELDON, Oct. 25, 1877.

The number of visitors to the Fair here was largely increased yesterday, and the grounds present a lively scene, yet some of the departments are not as well represented as they ought to be, especially that of agricultural products.

Col. Blakely has on exhibition some very superior sheep and hogs, that were at the State Fair. His Southdown sheep, one of which is a pen of five, is the finest in the State; the father of the flock was sold in this country for $625. He also exhibits a fine Albany bull, and a shot chow bull, thoroughly bred.

James Norwood, in addition to several fine horses exhibits a good line of Cotswold and Southdown sheep, and the Merino buck that was awarded him by the State Fair for the best exhibit of sheep. He also has a fine show of Berkshire hogs and farm products.

Col. Nick Long exhibits a pen of fat cattle, consisting of fifteen head of young oxen, the finest I ever saw in the State or out of it. Berry Manning, Esq., of the Caladonia farms, has a number of blooded grade cattle, among them a very fine Devon bull.

There have been "hops" in the dining hall, and the fair has been a success. The fair has been a success. The fair has been a success.

WASHINGTON.

The English Mission--Congressional Proceedings--Committee to Mature a Mode of Dealing with the Mission.

WASHINGTON, October 25.--[It appears that] Everts said to Don Cameron that the English Mission should go to Pennsylvania, and asked him to name the man, the scheme being that he should name MacVegh. Don, however, having his father in view, referred the matter to the Pennsylvania delegation, and they selected Simon. The selection does not appear to be agreeable to Mr. Hayes.

The impression is becoming oppressive that the Senate will not seat either Spotted or Everts, some Republicans not wishing to have Kellogg and Pinch-back thrust down their throats. Others favor allowing Louisiana to have her second thought. It is not beyond possibility that the question will be postponed until the people elect a new Legislature. It is asserted, however, that the Senate will seat the majority report of the committee which, if adopted, seats Kellogg. The majority report of the committee will follow what Morton has outlined, which, if adopted, seats Kellogg. The majority report of the committee will follow what Morton has outlined, which, if adopted, seats Kellogg.

The show here is good, but the majority report of the committee will follow what Morton has outlined, which, if adopted, seats Kellogg. The majority report of the committee will follow what Morton has outlined, which, if adopted, seats Kellogg.

A Jury at the Circuit.

The circuit court near breaking up Judge Dick's Federal Court at Savannah last Thursday. When the whole business went wild, and when his honor resumed his seat on the bench, it was nearly alone. The other of the court could not be found and the clerk was sent out to look up the jury. He heard of his having gone to the circus, and he went and followed it even into and into the circus tent. Around and around the ring he walked, finding his men one at a time, and winking and beckoning at such a rate as to excite the interest of the clown and to create the suspicion on the minds of those who were not acquainted with him, that he was the boss fakir of the circus. Great difficulty attended his efforts to get his men together, for as fast as he got one out of the crowd and brought him up to the court, he was sent back to the first man would drop back in a seat and go to whooping and carrying on. When he finally got them all together and standing and waiting off to the right, he put three o'clock in the afternoon, and even after they got outside of the circus, the last of the juryman rushed back to get a last glimpse at the Brazilian monkey.

Shooting Scrape.

Winston-Salem, N. C., Oct. 25.--A man by the name of George Johnson shot and it is supposed mortally wounded Ed. Pettis, at Walkertown, in this county, on Sunday night. Johnson accused Pettis of having stolen a rifle gun he was carrying. Johnson immediately left, and up to this time has not been captured.

That Major General P. T. Beauregard of La. and Jubal A. The Louisiana State Lottery, which has accumulated surplus of over $300,000, Address M. A. Dauphin, President, P. O. Box 692, New Orleans, La., for information or tickets.

[N. Y. World.]

Last evening a poorly dressed woman, somewhat under the influence of wine, was passing through East Thirtieth street, leading by the hand a little child. At the corner of Thirtieth street and Madison street the woman suddenly stopped and began to abuse the child without any apparent cause. The little fellow's screams attracted the attention of a lady, who, going up to the woman, said: "You wicked woman, what are you doing to that child? Why don't you go home?"

"I have no home, glory be to God," answered the woman, in a thick voice. "Well, why are you striking that child?" asked the lady.

"I don't strike my child, my dear," answered the woman, bursting into tears; "it's only a mother that knows a mother's heart."

The Georgia Marshals.

[National Republic.]

It is stated on the most excellent authority that the desired had at one time been given five Georgia Longstreet the appointment of the Georgia marshals, but that he changed his mind and refused to accept the position. The following are the names of the Georgia marshals, who were appointed by Governor West, 248,945; Bishop, 271,625; Bishop's majority, 22,680. Fitch's majority for Lieutenant Governor is 27,824. Vogler, who opposed Fitch, has a majority of 27,824. Fitch was put upon the Republican ticket to catch the German vote, but he ran over 7,000 behind West. ## SOUTHERN NEWS.

Marion, S. C., had the other day, its first wedding for several years.

A mysterious specter is frightening the negroes of Friar's Point, Miss.

Governor Baxter, of Arkansas, is out in circular denouncing himself as a candidate for United States Senator.

The number of deaths in Charleston last week was forty-six, of which nine were of whites and thirty-seven colored.

Captain James H. Robinson, one of the thoroughly fine young men of Portsmouth, has been nominated for the House of Delegates.

Sixteen penitentiary convicts have so far escaped from the Greenwood and Augusta railroad stockade near Greenwood, South Carolina.

The Charleston Medical Society held a meeting to consider an appeal from Fort Royal for a physician, and refused to send one without pay.

A mob broke into the Jefferson, Texas, jail and carried a negro twelve miles to where he had murdered a little mail boy, and there hung him.

The Vicksburg Herald mentions among the attractions of the Mississippi State Fair, that opens on the 12th prox, Governor Wade Hampton, Goldsmith Maid, Ten Broeck, Vera Cruz, etc.

It is stated that seven steamships are loading with cotton and grain at New Orleans, taking 222,000 bushels of wheat. The Baring Brothers are said to have been the largest buyers of wheat, upon the beginning of the season.

At a meeting of the Conservative State Committee of Virginia, Tuesday, a resolution was adopted, and motion, Colonel Robert H. Richardson, the Independent candidate for Lieutenant Governor, was removed from his position as State Conventurer.

The Richmond Primary election which took place on Monday was significant. It resulted in the selection of the ticket opposed to the repeal of the Mottet bill and in favor of paying the public debt, even if it was needed to raise the taxes for that purpose. The vote was small, only 2,300 votes being cast, the ticket selected receiving about 200 majority.

The nominees are Gen. Joseph H. Anderson, Wm. Wirt Henry, George K. Crutcheff, B. C. Gray and Samuel H. Pulliam.

Nashville American: The tallest man in the Twentieth Tennessee Confederate regiment was D. A. Montgomery, of Smyrna. He measured six feet six in his socks, stood a head above almost any other man in the regiment, and, although always found in the thickest of the fight, he was one of the 300 out of 1,800 who lived to join in the reunion at Franklin Thursday. In one of the companies the Wright family was largely represented, seventeen of the same name having answered daily to the calls of the Orderly Sergeant.

STATE NEWS.

Winston Republican: The State Fair was a success.

The Chesnut crop in the mountains this season is light.

New Garden Agricultural Fair takes place next Saturday, the 27th.

A futile attempt was made Tuesday night to fire Craven county jail.

Winston Sentinel: The dried fruit of our town this season will reach over $100,000.

F. A. McInch, Esq., accidentally broke his leg a few days ago in Charlotte.

The U. S. District Court for the Pamlico District is in session at Newbern, Judge Geo. W. Brooks presiding.

Snow fell at Henry's, the head of the Western North Carolina Railroad, Monday. This is the first this season.

We learn from the Express that the commissioners of Pitt county have instituted suit against the board of ex-Sheriff Wilson.

Randolph Regulator: Our citizens who attended the Fair at Raleigh have returned. They seem pretty well satisfied with their trip.

Winston Sentinel: North Carolina raised 125,000 bushels of pea nuts this year; Tennessee, 500,000 bushels, and Virginia 780,000.

The Nut Shell is informed by Collector Powers that there are about 150 fruit distilleries in operation at this time in this (the second) Collection District. He and his deputies are kept busily employed issuing brandy stamps.

The Newbernian learns from a credible source that in Pamlico county, on Sunday last, while two colored men, aged respectively 23 years, were playfully wrestling, one tripped the other and threw him in a ditch by the roadside, from the effects of which he became instantly paralyzed, and on the following morning died. The doctor in attendance stated that death was superinduced by a fracture of the base of the brain.

Winston Republican.

Winston, at present, is one of the fastest growing towns in the State; on all sides we see improvements, and everything goes to show that our citizens mean business and intend keeping up with the times.

The Wilmington Regulator makes the painful announcement that our esteemed cotemporary, W. H. Bernard, Esq., of the Star, died a sweet and beautiful little daughter last Tuesday by diphtheria. Brother Bernard has our warmest sympathy in his bereavement.

Randolph Regulator: We are pained to learn that Mr. Clark Fuller, while on his way to the Raleigh Fair, met with the misfortune to get his leg broken. His ankle took fright at the cars, and got the advantage of him, and broke his leg. He has gotten home we understand.

Washington Press: We are informed by a friend from about Blount's Creek that a Miss Ruff, daughter of the widow Jewell, attempted suicide one day last week by taking chloroform, but was discovered in time to be saved. She had made all the necessary arrangements for shrouding herself and had laid out such clothes as she wanted used. We are not informed as to the motive prompting the act.

Wilmington Star: At a meeting of the members of the Bar in attendance upon the Superior Court, now in session, a committee was appointed to draft resolutions expressive of the sense of the loss of the profession has sustained, as well as the community generally, in the death of the late Adam Empire, which has occurred since the last session of Court. The committee were instructed to report at an adjournment meeting of the members of the Bar, to be held on Monday next.

CONGRESS.

The extra session of Congress has been most unprofitable so far. It has literally accomplished nothing. The great question for which the session was called—the support of the army, is as yet untouched. Dullness reigns supreme over the two halls. Perhaps, though, we may look for a stirring among the members after the Pimlico races are over. Both the Senate and House seem to be in attendance on that sporting field. The country must not get impatient. Congressmen must see the horse-racing. Our party practically controls Congress, and we shall be grievously disappointed if some beneficial legislation is not passed; and that soon.

The Democrats seem united in nothing except Hayes' Southern policy, which will be supported almost without a dissenting voice. The N. Y. World says:

To suppose that the Democrats openly or covertly oppose it is to suppose that they are prepared, as the Albany platform puts it, to abandon their own principles because they have been adopted and put into practice by a Republican Administration. The Republican party is notoriously divided upon this point. The Post insists that the masses of the party are with the President, and that some of the leaders represent them. But whatever the extent of the division may be, the fact of a division is unquestioned. There is no division upon this subject in the Democratic party, and no pretense of any. Every Democratic Senator and Representative can vote without reservation approving the Southern policy of President Hayes.

FRAUDULENT FERTILIZERS. Dr. Ledoux, our Analytical Chemist, in his last statement to Commissioner Polk says: "No one, however shrewd, can tell what the value of a manure will be to him without obtaining an analysis thereof, or waiting months for the results on his crops. On the 18th of August Prof. S. W. Johnson, Director of the Connecticut Experiment Station, published an analysis of a fertilizer (?) sold in New Haven, the selling price of which was $32, and the value $1.32 per ton, containing but four per cent of plant food all included, and, to use Prof. Johnson's words, "was made up of water, vegetable matter and earth not worth bartering;" containing in a ton 637 lbs. of water and 1,067 lbs. of sand! Yet I will venture to assert that no one, by a superficial comparison, could readily choose between this humbug and a tolerably fair article." This instance of imposition from Connecticut illustrates very clearly and pointedly the value of our Agricultural Experiment and Fertilizer Control Station, to the farmers of the State. It will save them thousands of dollars.

PLEADING IN INDICTMENTS. One of our correspondents proposes the following act to be passed by the next General Assembly:

The General Assembly of North Carolina do enact: That defendants in any indictment may plead as many several matters as may be necessary for their defense, so that they may not be permitted to plead and demur at the same time.

2nd. That this act shall take effect from and after its ratification.

Lawyers will perceive that the effect of this statute is only to extend the statute of Anne, allowing double pleas, to criminal cases. As the law now stands "former conviction" or "former acquittal" cannot be pleaded with "not guilty," as they are inconsistent and often difficult to select between them. Defendants are thereby punished twice for the same offence. Defendants should be allowed liberality in pleading as it favors liberty.

The colored brother is badly treated in the Forty-fifth Congress. Only three negroes present any real claim to seats in this Congress, Rainey, Smalls and Cain of South Carolina, and all of these cases are contested by Democrats. Smalls, one of these negroes, is at present in jail in South Carolina for bribery, and has confessed his guilt, and certainly will never visit the capitol again. Rainey and Cain were seated the other day, on a prima facie case, but will undoubtedly, all correspondents agree, in the end be unseated. It may be safely surmised that after the Committee on Elections shall have reported and the House acted, the colored brother will be wholly unrepresented in the House. One negro, Bruce of Mississippi, still lingers in the Senate.

NEW FORM OF INDICTMENT FOR FORCIBLE TRESPASS.

A certain Solicitor in one of the mountain districts had an indictment for forcible trespass to personality quashed because he did not charge that the prosecution was "pretext and forbidding."

After several days reflection and the examination of Swain's Justice and other standard authorities, he came in with a new bill as follows:

"The jurors on their oath present to me that the said John Jones, one of the property of Jacob Smith, then and there violently, forcibly and with a strong hand did take, the said Jacob Smith being then and there present, sitting on the fence, and forbidding."

The defendant's counsel surrendered when this bill came in, and the prosecuting officer of the State looked triumphant.

The law of Virginia requires each elector to pay his State taxes in full before he votes. This law will go into effect for the first time at the approaching State election.

A Few Words Upon an Old Subject.

[N. C. Presbyterian.] Recently the Raleigh News called attention in several editorials to a matter of considerable importance—the fact that in too many of our schools too little aid is extended to the pupil in school hours. The old system of teaching the whole day, bad as it was its effects on the health of teacher and scholar, was better than the modern plan of having most or many of the lessons studied at home and recited rapidly in the school-room. In the former case the tutor could always assist the pupil in the preparation of the lesson; in the latter the learner has no assistance, unless, as it may happen, some one at home—his father, mother, sister or brother—is competent or has leisure and disposition to help him. Another fault of the present system in some schools is the crowd of studies. There are far too many studies taught in the middle and high schools. Books that ought to be reserved for College are put in the hands of grammar-school children. This results in cramming and superficiality—in pretension and real ignorance. The large number of branches taught in some schools precludes thorough instruction in any. The great want of the day is not a scholarship of sham, not a host of ill educated young men and women but a genuine scholarship, an advance in culture which is measured not by the number of things half learned but by the solidity of acquisitions be they few or many.
